Discover the COPC Library

Winter is an ideal time to settle in with a good book and the OPC library is a wonderful resource. New acquisitions include Dr. Andrew Selle's book on church decision making, "Making Smart Decisions Together," just in time for annual meeting. Most of our books are in the church foyer in the brown bookshelves there.

Our youth and young adult offerings can be found on the book trolley in the back of the sanctuary. An excellent series of Christian biographies for younger readers (or busy adults) by Simonetta Carr are there, and there are three brand new titles in this series: John Bunyan, Patrick of Ireland, and Anne Bradstreet.

Indulge in some inspirational armchair travel with stories from missionaries around the world. The library also has devotionals, study guides and commentaries to deepen individual practice or share with a discussion group.

To take a book, just sign and date the card in the back of the book and leave it in the designated box on the bookshelf in the entrance.

Come explore!
